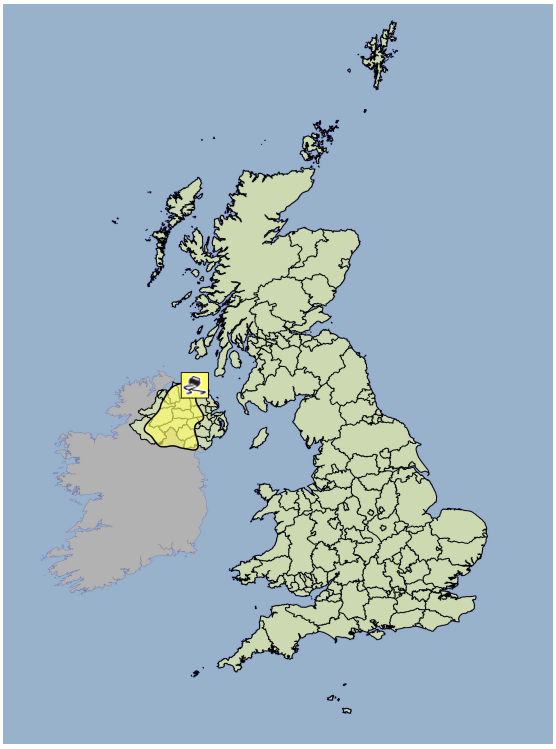
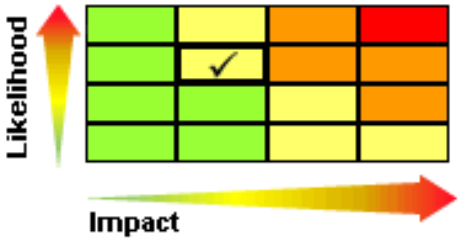
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Showers have been feeding across Northern Ireland during the night. Clear spells between these showers have allowed road temperatures to fall below freezing in places. This may allow icy stretches to develop on untreated roads or roads where treatment has been washed away.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Ice

Valid from 05:00 on Sat, 28th Dec 2013 until 10:00 on Sat, 28th Dec 2013

Icy stretches are likely to form on untreated surfaces this morning.

The public are advised to take care and be aware of the potential of minor disruption to travel.
